THE JCPENNEY AFTERSCHOOL FUND has awarded $10,200 to the CONCORD FAMILY YMCA to help more children participate in afterschool programs. The gift is one of 340 grants by the JCPenney Afterschool Fund to YMCAs around the country. The grants are targeted to help YMCAs provide financial assistance to youths who are not participating in an afterschool program because of cost or those who are currently participating but are at risk of leaving.

COBB HILL CONSTRUCTION of Concord have begun a major renovation project at the Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church in Concord. The renovation involves the lower level of the building, a 3,000-square-foot space that will be gutted. Two bathrooms will be renovated and a new heating system and fire alarm system will be installed. An elevator and additional ventilation will also be added.
